Washington DC 2006

Dear Mr. President,

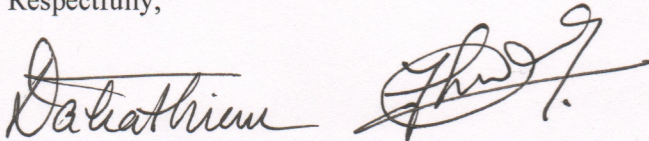

We need your help. Our beloved daughter Denise has been missing in Spain for more than 120 days, and we need your immediate intervention if there is any chance to find her alive. Senator McCain asked Secretary Kerry and Director Comey to augment US Embassy resources and to bring our daughter's status to the attention of the Spanish Prime Minister. Friends and many people we do not know have appealed directly to you and to Vice President Biden with letters and emails. To date, no one has acknowledged or responded.

The US Embassy in Spain advises that Denise is the responsibility of the Spanish government. The Ambassador and Consul General apparently wish to avoid responsibility. Thus, we feel that our own government has abandoned our daughter.

You have two lovely daughters. We have a daughter and a son. As with your family experience, our life centers on our children. From the time we came to the US, we worked hard to be productive citizens and to impart American values to our children. We provided them the education needed to reach the American dream as their talents and commitment determined. Denise's dream was within her grasp, but now she is missing. We are at the breaking point emotionally and mentally.

The US Embassy has told us that we are entirely dependent upon the Spanish National Police for any and all information regarding the investigation into our daughter's disappearance. After more than 120 days, we are still waiting for news, any news. Please help us find our daughter by calling Prime Minister Rajoy and imploring him to instruct his government to tell us what it knows, what it does not know and what it is doing to find our daughter. As parents, we believe we have the right to know if there is any reason to hope that our daughter is alive. Please help us.

Respectfully,
